Seeking Marketing and Social Media Intern for the Spring

About Us:

Combined, we've been producing independent film and theatre for more than 30 years. We have developed narrative films with a total production value exceeding $600,000. Our projects have been selected for more than 100 film festivals on every continent, having received dozens of award nominations.

We are in the preparation stage of a short film to go into production the weekend of May 17/18th and we're looking for someone to assist with marketing and social media.

The candidate should be able to commit to:

- 2 hours per week during the pre-production phase
- 4-6 hours per week in the beginning of May
- Be on location in De Winton with the production crew on the weekend of filming for media coverage, live feeds, etc.
- Time commitment would taper off in the weeks following, making announcements on post-production activities

Roles and Responsibilities may include, but not limited to:

- Managing posts on social media (Instagram, Facebook, etc.)
- Outreach to email lists
- Conduct brief interviews with cast and crew leading up to and during production
- Marketing of movie swag, primarily a t-shirt in support of the film
- Make qualified suggestions to expand our reach beyond the local community

Potential for additional work!

Our companies are preparing for several additional productions this year. There is a very strong chance that this position could be extended for the remainder of 2025.

Compensation will be an honorarium based on production of content and the engagement of the public on social media platforms.

Application deadline is March 21, 2025
