

StartWork Coordinator

Michelle Lee

Michelle is a dedicated Social Service Practitioner with over 10 years of experience supporting diverse populations facing barriers to employment, including those with disabilities and newcomers. She has worked in both non-profit organizations and social enterprises across Hong Kong and Canada, specializing in employment development, case management, building strong partnerships with communities and employers, and managing various social enterprises and social innovation projects.

Michelle is skilled in cross-cultural communication and applies trauma-informed practices to create inclusive, sustainable employment pathways. With a proven track record of leading multidisciplinary teams, she is committed to promoting wellbeing and reducing barriers to both employment and mental health services. Michelle holds a Master's in Social Work from Hong Kong and a Graduate Certificate in Mental Health Intervention from Toronto. She is a registered social worker in Hong Kong and is passionate about nurturing social enterprise and innovation projects in Canada, particularly in Calgary, to address social challenges.
